

Give music, art, and opportunity:

Sponsor tickets for students, survivors, and/or underserved elderly to attend
SANCTUARY

A concert produced by Terezín Music Foundation, a prominent Boston nonprofit since 1991.

Monday, October 8 at Symphony Hall, Boston. 6:00 pm concert

Internationally acclaimed pianist SIMONE DINNERSTEIN performs:

- The world premiere of a TMF commission by rising artist Ellis Ludwig-Leone
- An acclaimed new work by Afghan refugee composer Milad Yousufi
- Music by Satie, Glass, and Schubert

Your personal or corporate sponsorship gives the Boston community:

- Awareness of the Terezín story
- Insight into the power of art to oppose oppression
- The inspiration of hearing work by young musicians
- The excitement of attending a Symphony Hall performance by a major artist
- A TMF Holocaust education program brought to their school or community (TMF Holocaust education programs are in high demand in these challenging times; to them we bring more than two decades of teaching.)

You receive:

- Your logo (if applicable) and our thanks to you on all online and printed materials related to the event, reaching tens of thousands of affluent, prominent philanthropists and leaders who support Terezín Music Foundation and are associated with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and many other major local arts organizations.
- A follow-up report filled with moving and quotable comments directly from students and their teachers — with permission for use in your own PR and outreach.
- Tickets to the event: our pre-concert reception, concert with premier seating, and private benefactors' dinner with the artists and award recipients Barbara and Steve Grossman.

From a sponsored school:

"For years, sponsors have enabled Reading Memorial High School Students to attend TMF's annual gala . . . This vital foundation has touched the hearts of our students, our staff, and our community — and inspired young people who have gone on to publish award-winning reports, transpose and perform music, and even produce a theatrical piece at a state competition.

At this event, the music, the art, and the people who perished during the Holocaust are brought back to life and interact with the future. Our future. We are eternally grateful for the work of the Terezin Music Foundation!"

—Linda Snow Dockser, Reading Memorial High School

From a sponsored group:

"Thank you for the tickets to the wonderful program! We were even able to allow a resident (who is a survivor) have her children attend, which allowed her to have a more meaningful experience. One guest came up to me and told me she lost two pounds because she was clapping so hard. According to the attendees, this elegant and moving event was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for them (or at least this stage of their life)."

—Community manager for the underserved elderly
